For Growing Restaurants

Take the Stress Out of Staff Scheduling

Susie needs every other Monday afternoon off. Tom is going away the third weekend in May. Harry is only available for the breakfast shift on Tuesdays and Thursdays for the next six weeks. Does this sound familiar?

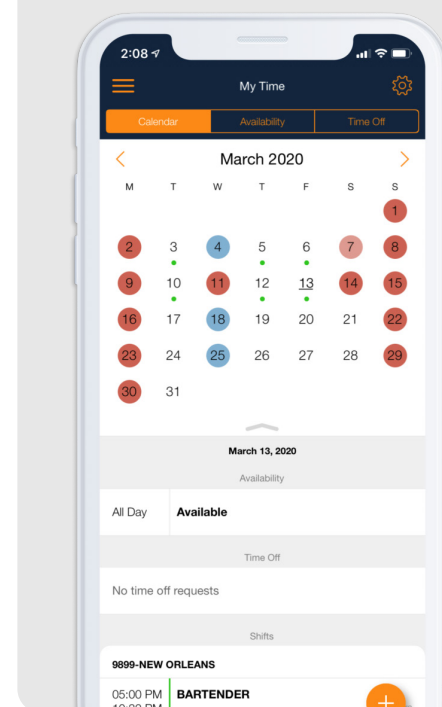

Juggling each employee's shifting availability is extraordinarily time-consuming. Restaurant managers often spend multiple hours per week creating employee schedules. It's more time lost than you may realize.

Busy restaurant managers need every free minute they can get. Teamworx by CrunchTime is here to help you squeeze more time out of your workday. This app offers an employee self-service portal designed to make scheduling easy. Employees can view their schedule of upcoming shifts, swap or offer them to others, manage time-off requests, and read and reply to messages from managers – all from their mobile devices.

Plus, the automated staff scheduling feature empowers managers to spend more time on what matters most: focusing on staff development and engaging with guests.

Key Features of Teamworx

Easy-access employee portal

Employees can view their schedules, certify time worked, request time-off, request to pick up shifts, and indicate when tasks are completed. Teamworx empowers employees to ensure all shifts are properly staffed and puts them in control of their own schedules.

Easy management oversight

Managers have full labor-management oversight and final approval of time-off and schedule shift requests. Teamworx allows managers to ensure that schedules are optimized based on daily demand forecasts and skill levels for each required position.

Integrated workforce messaging and manager log

Managers can message any or all employees with pertinent information and assign tasks, consolidating critical information such as daily shift and personnel notes. Increase efficiency and streamline communication by sending info only to those who need it.

Compliance with labor laws

Each shift schedule is checked against local, state, and federal labor laws to ensure compliance with regulations. Teamworx helps you optimize labor costs because schedules can be managed to reduce or eliminate overtime and legal fines pertaining to labor law violations.

Auto-scheduling capability

Create, manage, and distribute automatically optimized schedules anywhere and anytime using a web browser. The auto-scheduler feature makes creating shifts easier and lowers the risk of no-call no-shows.
